Our society are too great to make a complete reconciliation easily achieved, given the alternatives, a creative dialogue must continue.

Especially since the events of September 2011, many Australians have become concerned about what goes on behind the walls of the Muslim community. These concerns, often driven by fear and lack of knowledge, can be addressed through education.

The essays collected in this book look behind those walls and explore the issues challenging both Muslim Australians and the mainstream society today.

The broad and diverse perspectives covered in this project are important and topical, and have not been gathered before in published form. They are written by contributors who are members of Muslim community and outsiders, lay and religious, academic and non-professional; Australian and beyond. This in many ways widens the frame of reference, effectiveness of argumentation and style of criticism.

The analysis and understanding of what it means to be a Muslim in a growing multicultural, multi-religious, technological contemporary Australia present a difficult and sensitive task. This collection provides a stepping stone on that journey.

The Author

Dr Abe W. Ata graduated in psychology at the American University and was nominated as a delegate to the United Nations’ World Youth Assembly in New York. He completed his doctorate at Melbourne University in 1980 and has since taught in several Australian, American, Jordanian, West Bank and Danish universities. He was an Honorary Fellow at the Australian Catholic University (2000-2010) and is currently an Honorary Fellow at Deakin University. His cross-cultural training background, multidisciplinary approach and sensitivity in conducting and interpreting a wide range of research projects are demonstrated in his publication of 15 books. These include Bereavement and Health in Australia (1996); Christian and Muslim Intermarriage in Australia (2005), Us and Them: Christian-Muslim Relations and Social Harmony in Australia (2009) and Catholics and Catholicism in Australia: Challenges and Achievements (2012). He has also written 102 journal articles of which 17 are published in the Encyclopedia of Australian People (2000), Encyclopedia of Melbourne (2005), and Encyclopedia of Religions (2009).
EDUCATION, INTEGRATION, CHALLENGES
The Case of Australian Muslims  Edited by Dr A. W. Ata

228 x 152 mm  192 pp pb ISBN 9781 86355 149 6  rrp $35.00

Introduction
Abe W. Ata

Part 1: Muslims in Australian Society
Abe W. Ata  Knowledge, False Beliefs and Fact-Driven Perceptions of Muslims in Australia: A national survey
Hisham M. Abu-Rayya & Fiona A. White  Acculturation Orientations of Anglo-Australians towards Australian Muslim
Kevin M. Dunn  Contemporary Racism and Islamophobia in Australia: De-racialising a religion
Benjamin Isakhan  Islam and Democracy in Australia
Patrick McInerney  The Centre for Christian-Muslim Relations: A pioneering effort

Part 2: Social and Cultural Issues
Jan A. Ali  Understanding the Barriers to Social Inclusion Experienced by Muslims in Australia
Selda Dagistanli  ‘Attacks on civil society’: Looking back at the Sydney gang rapes
Sekneh Beckett, Alyena Mohummadally & Maria Pallotta-Chiarolli  Living the Rainbow: ‘Queerying’ Muslim identities
Aziz Cooper  Muslim Prisoners and Chaplaincy Support in Australia
Ikebal Patel  Organ Donation: An Islamic-Australian perspective
Ghassan Kassisieh & Sekneh Hammoud-Beckett  A World of Whispers: Life for same-sex attracted Muslims from Arabic-speaking backgrounds in Australia

Part 3: Education
Abe W. Ata & Nigel Rockliffe  Muslim Students’ Beliefs, Knowledge and Perceptions of Australia: A national survey
Margaret Perger & Alex Kostogriz  Multiculturalism, Schooling and Muslims in Australia: From Orientalism to a possibility of hospitable education
Silma Ihram  Barriers to Muslim Women’s Career Aspirations

ORDER FORM

Name ................................................ Organisation ................................................
Address ............................................................................................................................
Suburb/City ................................................................. State ............ P/Code ..............
Date .......... Tel ................................................ Email ................................................

Please send me ........... copy/ies of EDUCATION, INTEGRATION, CHALLENGES @ $35.00 .................
plus p&p $10.00 .................
TOTAL .................

I enclose cheque/money order for $ ................. (cheques payable to David Lovell Publishing)
OR  □ please invoice me  OR charge my credit card  □ Visa  □ Mastercard
Card no  .............................................................. Expires ............. / .............
Name on card ........................................................................................................
Signature .................................................................................................